

U10A – Bob Hannan and Mike Stedman

Coach Mike and Coach Bob encourage their players to work hard every time they step on the ice. They teach their players that improvement comes through consistent effort and practice, and that hard work pays off both during games and in everyday life. While focused on developing their hockey skills, Bob and Mike also emphasize the value of teamwork, respect for others, and supporting one another as teammates.

Coaching Philosophy

- Create a welcoming environment building from confidence and success where these players can thrive to their full potential.
- Respect and discipline held with the highest regard.
- Recognition that each individual player has their own unique style of learning.
- Transparent and always open to communication.
- These players will grow off the ice as much as they do on.
- Proven success at the U10 level with fundamental based practices complimented with strategy-based systems.
- Gains are made in practice through a well-structured and organized practice plan. Success and confidence are learned from hard work and sacrifice.

Why choose us?

- Open borders have created the ability to choose what's best for your player. These decisions should be made with the thought process of where is my child going to grow to their full potential.
- To want to be in the room. To want to pull that jersey over their head. To want to be a teammate on something bigger than themselves.
- We will breed want. We will breed confidence. We will breed pride.
- 1% better every day on and off the ice.
